HAPPENINGS OF A LOCAL CHARACTER BRIEFLY CHRONICLED.

Interesting News Items From Mahanoy City and Girardville—A Clever Capture Made.

MAHANAY CITY, Dec. 22.

"The" Fisher, the barber, has done some detective work that would reflect credit upon the married force. While Mr. Fisher was absent from his business for a few minutes early yesterday morning a seedy individual entered and asked Mrs. Fisher for the loan of a razor. The request was refused and upon her husband's return Mrs. Fisher told him of the tramp's visit. A search revealed the loss of two highly-prized razors. Armed with his wife's description of the stranger Fisher started on a hunt and at the gas house found three traps, none of whom answered his description.

Fisher is gritty. He made known his business and searched the clothing of the three men, but failed to find his property. After a tour of the town, later in the day he went to Mahanoy Plains and there learned that four tramps had gone up the road towards Frackville, in a wagon. Our sleuth jumped the "bums" at the place, hoping to intercept the men, but upon his arrival at Frackville learned that the tramps had walked the railroad in the direction of Pottsville. Fisher then got upon a coal train and at about half a mile from St. Clair he passed the four "suspects." Jumping from the train, Fisher hid behind a porch and when the men approached he recognized three of the tramps he searched at Mahanoy City, and the fourth answered the description given by Mrs. Fisher. The barber grabbed the fourth tramp and called for assistance, but they only laughed at him. The captive struggled and his three companions seemed anxious to help him, but Fisher backed up against a wall, still holding on to the tramp. "Where is your authority for this work?" demanded the thief. "Here it is," answered Fisher, as he presented a big navy revolver. The captive wilted and drawing a pair of razors from his stocking handed them to Fisher, who then started for Pottsville with the tramp in his custody. Upon arrival in the town the barber borrowed sufficient money to pay two fares to Mahanoy City and in due time he presented his prisoner before Justice May at this place.

The tramp was committed to jail in default of $200 bail. He said his name was James Wilson and he resided in West Philadelphia. He was not in the lockup an hour when he attempted to escape by cutting through the cell door.

Matthew McAtee, of West Spruce street, a contractor, Joseph Bevelik, Frank Freshcavage and a fat boy named August Adams were burned by an explosion of gas at Tunnel Ridge colliery on Thursday afternoon. The men were working in the East Rock Mountain gangway when a fall of top soil released a small body of gas, which was ignited by the naked lamps hanging on the ribbers. The boy and the laborers were well enough last night to eat supper at the table, but Mr. McAtee's injuries are more serious. He was burned about the hands and face, and slightly on the back. He had an eye some time ago and it is feared the remaining one has been destroyed.

The marriage of Miss Sarah Novor and Samuel Sabinowitz, both of Mahanoy City, was solemnized by Rabbi Moses Jaffe, in Kator's opera house hall on Thursday evening. The guests were numerous. A sumptuous supper was served, after which the guests skipped the light fantastic until an early hour this morning. The bride wore a pearl chignon dress trimmed with cambric lace and satin ribbon, and her pretty head was decorated with a light veil and a bunch of orange blossoms. The best men were Louis Robenowitz and Louis Feinberg, of Shenandoah; and the bridesmaids, Misses Annie Robenowitz and Anna Rhoadman, of Mahanoy City. Among those present were Adolph Prince, of Pottsville; Mr. and Mrs. S. Robenowitz, Mr. and Mrs. M. Feldburg, of Mahanoy City; Mrs. Sapowitz and daughter, of Shenandoah; Hyman Ellis, of town; M. A. Cagle, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Refowich, Misses Anna and Jennie Refowich, H. B. Friedberg, Miss Louisa Oberon and Mr. and Mrs. H. Eber.

A FARMER'S SUICIDE. Medical Attendance Failed to Save His Life.

Jerome Fox, a farmer, died at his home in Zion's Grove at noon yesterday from the effects of laudanum taken with suicidal intent.

Fox was about sixty years of age and was reputed to be pretty well to do. He left a wife and several adult children.

The poison was taken on Thursday evening. Dr. Reuschler, of Ringtown, was summoned and he exerted himself to counteract the effects of the drug, but at 11 o'clock that night Fox fell into a stupor and remained in it until relieved by death.

Immediately after the poison was taken Fox, when asked why he committed the act, said, "If you suffered the pains I have you would have done the same." He had not complained of being ill previously.

I can never thank Dr. Moore enough for restoring my sight."

He Had Catarrh. "For three years I had suffered from nasal catarrh a high produced pain in the ears, eyes, head and face. Learning of Dr. Moore, I went to him, and to my utter astonishment I found when I went home I conversed with my wife across the room, she speaking in an ordinary tone of voice. Since then I have attended church and was able to hear the sermon distinctly."
